Laidlaw at Large

Theological training and development within your own church context

Laidlaw at Large gives you the opportunity to offer high quality interactive lecture courses to your people in your own church space. It's a cost-effective training opportunity that is as close as possible to having the Laidlaw lecturer right there with you.

Each semester you can gather your people together for a weekly video-conferenced lecture, run on a week-night, that also allows space for the material to be intentionally discussed and applied within your own context. The courses include biblical studies, systematic theology, spiritual formation and Christian leadership and mission.

THERE ARE TWO OPTIONS FOR ENROLMENT:

- Enrol as a credit student, with the possibility of working towards a Diploma in Christian Studies over time, OR
- Enrol as an “interest only” student, who sits in on the course and has access all the resources, but doesn’t have to complete assessments.
