Our Vision

A world shaped by love, compelled and informed by the Gospel.

Our Mission

To equip students and scholars to renew their communities with a faith as intelligent as it is courageous.

Laidlaw College is an evangelical, interdenominational tertiary institution committed to the provision of theological education throughout the whole of New Zealand. Laidlaw College has campuses in Henderson, Manukau and Christchurch – as well as distance learning options, that together offer students a great deal of flexibility in how they structure their study.

Laidlaw College is registered by the New Zealand Qualifications Authority (NZQA) under provisions of the 1989 Education Act and its amendments and is accredited to teach programmes listed in this handbook, all of which have been approved by the Authority.

WELCOME

Laidlaw College has been preparing men and women to serve the church and the world for over 95 years. The School of Theology offers a range of programmes rich in practical experience and in-depth knowledge.

Students will learn to think imaginatively and critically about issues that affect all of life and society, gain the tools to translate the Gospel of Christ into action and bring about renewal within their own lives and the lives of those around them. In the process, they will grapple with questions such as “Who is Jesus and what has he done?” and “What does it mean to be human?”

Students might find themselves:

- Studying in Laidlaw’s Internship programme while they continue their church ministry;
- Taking time out for a gap year to strengthen and reinforce their faith before going on to University study;
- Preparing to participate in missions in New Zealand and around the world;
- Training for pastoral leadership;
- Bringing their faith to bear in the workplace.

The School of Theology offers a diverse backdrop for preparation for ministry. Students enrolled in one of its programmes will find themselves immersed in the world of Scripture and the Church. They will gain the tools to translate the Gospel into action in the areas of social justice, reconciliation, community transformation and personal formation – just to name a few. Laidlaw College will prepare them to renew their community with a faith as intelligent as it is courageous.

OUTLINE

The Diploma in Christian Studies (DipCS) provides students with an introduction to biblical studies, theological studies and spiritual formation and prepares them to live out the Gospel of Christ, engaging thoughtfully and compassionately in the world. It can be taken with tracks in: Biblical Studies; Christian Leadership†; Christian Thought and History; Pastoral Ministry; Mission and Intercultural; Youth Ministry.

The Christian Leadership track† equips people to evaluate and deliver ministry programmes within their context, to think deeply about their faith, and to lead a wide range of Christian operations. Students are equipped with a biblical and theological foundation upon which applied Christian leadership skills are developed through internship in real life practical contexts.

Students who complete the DipCS may staircase into the second year of either the Bachelor of Ministries or the Bachelor of Theology degrees. If this is envisaged then particular consideration must be given to the track chosen so as to achieve an appropriate foundation for the desired degree.

† This programme is only available through one of several learning hubs located around the country.

OBJECTIVES

On completion of the Diploma in Christian Studies students will have developed the capacity to tell the biblical story, to read the Scriptures within their wider historical context and to understand a theological framework for life and ministry.

Students will have begun the process of developing the disciplines necessary both to maintain their own spiritual growth and to serve in voluntary leadership capacities within the church and in our world. By the end of this study programme students will have gained the skills required to apply their knowledge in a range of contexts, including vocations in New Zealand and overseas.

Bachelor of Ministries (BMin)

PROGRAMME SUMMARY

NQF Level	7, 360 credits
Duration	Full-time for three years, part-time options available
Starts	February and July
Places	Open – Selection criteria apply
Campus	Henderson, Christchurch, Distance Learning
Tuition Fee	$5,970 per full time year of study (120 credits) plus Student Services Fee
Web	www.laidlaw.ac.nz/theology

OUTLINE

The Bachelor of Ministries (BMin) is designed for those who feel a calling to Christian ministry, whether that be in a local church, an intercultural missions context or in the wider community. Drawing together practical ministry experience gained through an internship placement, with deep biblical and theological thinking, students will acquire the skills and knowledge for working out the Gospel in life and ministry. They will be challenged and mentored in their ministry journeys and will be encouraged to develop a heart for people and a vision of the Gospel that embraces the whole person.

The minimum period of study is three years full-time or an equivalent period part-time. The programme must be completed within eight years of commencement unless special permission is granted by the Head of School.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

 - Pastoral ministry
 - Personal helping vocations
 - Religious education instructors
 - Senior Pastor
 - Youth Pastor
- Professional development
- Effective service as a church member
- Personal Christian growth
- Further study at master's and doctoral level

OBJECTIVES

On completion of the Bachelor of Ministries Laidlaw graduates will:

- Be agents of change and grace as they live out the gospel in diverse vocations. Laidlaw graduates will be equipped to be leaders in church, non-profit and educational settings.
- Be thoroughly Christian in terms of their perspective of the world and the centrality of Christ.
- Have established a good biblical and theological knowledge which they can continue to build on.
- Have been mentored, understanding the necessity of relationships for sustained ministry and transformation.
- Have a heart for people and a holistic vision of the gospel – making a difference spiritually, socially, emotionally, physically.
- Have developed the skills of reflective practice which allows them to thoughtfully bring their lived experience into conversation with their biblical and theological knowledge.
- Have developed the skills to discern the uniqueness of how God is at work in a local context.
- Have gained life skills for leading, communicating, resolving conflict, mentoring and personal management.
- Have developed an awareness of self and their unique set of giftings that enables them to recognise their best fit for Christian ministry practice and their potential for development.

REQUIREMENTS

Bachelor of Theology (BTheol)

PROGRAMME SUMMARY

NQF Level	7, 360 credits
Duration	Full-time for three years, part-time options available
Starts	February and July
Places	Open – Selection criteria apply
Campus	Henderson, Christchurch, Distance Learning
Tuition Fee	$5,970 per full time year of study (120 credits) plus Student Services Fee
Web	www.laidlaw.ac.nz/theology

OUTLINE

The Bachelor of Theology (BTheol) is designed to provide students with a solid foundation in biblical studies, theological knowledge and reflection. It provides an in-depth engagement with Scripture, Christian thought and history and equips students with the skills they need for pastoral and missional leadership, as well as other ministries. It is also strongly recommended for those seeking theological grounding for higher academic qualifications in biblical and theological studies.

The minimum period of study is three years full-time or an equivalent period part-time. The programme must be completed within eight years of commencement unless special permission is granted by the Head of School.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

- Church Leadership
- Paid employment in areas such as:
 - Associate Pastor

 - Para-church work
 - Pastoral ministry
 - Personal helping vocations
 - Senior Pastor
 - Theological teaching
- Professional development
- Effective service as a church member
- Personal Christian growth
- Further study at master's and doctoral level

OBJECTIVES

This programme aims to equip students to live faithfully in the light of the gospel in the twenty first century. As well as learning to think, research, analyse and evaluate, students' lives will be shaped and formed through their engagement with Scripture and theology. They will be instructed in how to read and interpret the biblical story in all its richness and diversity, making use of the skills and methods of theological research. They will also work with primary source material, gaining an understanding of the historical and cultural contexts in which God's people have wrestled with issues of life in generations prior to ours. Students will also be helped to evaluate contemporary issues in the light of their reading of God's word.

Students will be assisted in addressing philosophical and methodological questions around Scripture, theology and the history of Christian thought and life both in other times and places and in the era of which they are part.

REQUIREMENTS

Students must complete a Major in one of the three subject areas, and a Minor in each of the other two subject areas.

A Major is defined as:

- 135 credits in a subject area
- Of these 135 credits, 45 credits must be at level 7 or above
- A Major in Biblical Studies must include at least 30 credits in a biblical language.

A Minor is defined as:

- 90 credits in a subject area
- Of these 90 credits, 45 credits must be at level 6 or above.

Up to 45 credits may be taken from other degrees offered at Laidlaw.

The BTheol consists of 360 credits and is completed in two parts:

- PART A, the Diploma in Christian Studies or equivalent set of courses, consists of 120 credits of introductory courses which must be completed before proceeding to Part B.
- PART B consists of a further 240 credits of advanced courses which enable the completion of a Major of 135 credits in the chosen subject area and a Minor in the remaining two subject areas.

- If a student has already completed an internship or equivalent course with an appropriately accredited learning institution.
- If a student has been involved in ministry in a leadership capacity for a minimum of twelve months prior to enrolling at Laidlaw College.
- Please note that this waiver does not reduce the requirement for a total of 360 credits in the degree.

A student may be given a waiver of Internship pre-requisites. Please discuss Internship options with the Head of School or National Internship Co-ordinator.

Please see Appendix A on page 47 for further Internship regulations.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

- Church Leadership
- Paid employment in areas such as:
 - Associate Pastor
 - Christian writing
 - Church based ministries
 - Cross-cultural ministries
 - Inter-cultural ministries
 - Para-church work
 - Pastoral ministry
- Professional development
- Effective service as a church member
- Personal Christian growth
- Workplace Christians
- Further study at master's and doctoral level

OUTLINE

The Graduate Certificate in Theology (GradDipTh) is designed for those who already have an undergraduate qualification and bring vocational expertise and life experience into dialogue with critical reflection on the Christian faith. Students will deepen their theological understanding and discover connections between theology and the wider world, the church and missions contexts. Completion of the GradCertTh provides a potential springboard into the GradDipTh or can be an exit qualification. Graduates from this programme have returned to their vocations, engaged in missions or community development work in local and global contexts, trained as teachers or moved into church leadership.

The GradCertTh seeks to cater for all of the following:

- Graduates with a non-theological degree who wish to study for a theological qualification with special emphasis on areas of personal interest;
- Graduates with qualifications in theology who wish to deepen their understanding of, and competence in, specific areas of ministry or theological study;
- Those who, although without a degree qualification, have a proven background in experience and academic study deemed to be equivalent to a degree;
- Those who have completed 60 credits of a GradDipTh and choose not to continue on;
- Those who have completed a degree in a non-theological area but who wish to bridge into postgraduate programmes in theology, such as the Masters level MTh.

OBJECTIVES

The GradCertTh is designed to:

- Extend a student's understanding and skills in theology through academic instruction;
- Develop the student's ability to access and utilise a body of knowledge in application to ministries-related situations;
- Facilitate rigorous analysis and independent thinking, together with sound communication skills;
- Establish a firm base for further study at postgraduate level.

REQUIREMENTS

GradCertTh LEVEL 7
LEVEL	SUBJECT
5	Max 15 credits
6
7	Min 45 credits
Must include 45 credits at level 7 or higher from the Theology curriculum.
TOTAL CREDITS REQUIRED
60

ADMISSIONS REQUIREMENTS

GENERAL ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The normal requirement for admission into the GradCertTh programme is a completed undergraduate degree, or higher qualification, as defined in the National Qualifications Framework of the NZQA.

SPECIAL ADMISSION

Serious consideration will be given to those who have a combination of relevant experience and non-degree qualifications. This is particularly relevant for those whose qualifications are at a level which, in the current New Zealand environment, are likely to be regarded as having been gained at degree level. Each application will, however, be considered in light of the applicant's overall background and ability to benefit from the programme. The onus is on students to provide details of all qualifications and experience relevant to the application process.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS

These requirements are in addition to those outlined above and apply to applicants for whom English is not their first language:

- IELTS (academic) 6.5 or higher (with min of 6.0 in all bands) OR
- Pearson Test of English (Academic) score of 58 OR
- equivalent (see www.nzqa.govt.nz/about-us/our-role/legislation/nzqa-rules/nzqf-related-rules/the-table/)

Please see page 12 for more details around English Language requirements.

OUTLINE

The Graduate Diploma in Theology (GradDipTh) is designed for those who already have an undergraduate qualification and brings vocational expertise and life experience into dialogue with critical reflection on the Christian faith. Students will deepen their theological understanding and discover connections between theology and the wider world, the church and missions contexts. Completion of the GradDipTh provides a potential springboard into postgraduate study. Graduates from this programme will have returned to their vocations, engaged in missions or community development work in local and global contexts and trained as teachers or moved into church leadership.

Because of its flexibility, the GradDipTh will be suitable for learners whose commitments make part-time study over a more or less extended period of time the only viable option, as well as for those who are able to devote one year of full-time study to complete the required courses. The programme must be completed within six years of commencement unless special permission is granted by the Head of School.

The GradDipTh seeks to cater for all of the following:

- Graduates with a non-theological degree who wish to study for a theological qualification with special emphasis on areas of personal interest;
- Graduates with qualifications in theology who wish to deepen their understanding of, and competence in, specific areas of ministry or theological study;

- Those who, although without a degree qualification, have a proven background in experience and academic study deemed to be equivalent to a degree;
- Those who have completed a degree in a non-theological area but who wish to bridge into postgraduate programmes in theology, such as the Masters level MTh offered by the Laidlaw Graduate School.

OBJECTIVES

The GradDipTh is designed to:

- Extend a student's understanding and skills in theology through academic instruction;
- Develop the student's ability to access and utilise a body of knowledge in application to ministries-related situations;
- Facilitate rigorous analysis and independent thinking, together with sound communication skills;
- Establish a firm base for further study at postgraduate level.

REQUIREMENTS

GradDipTh LEVEL 7
LEVEL	SUBJECT	CREDITS
5	Max 45 credits
6
7	Minimum 75 credits
Must include at least 30 credits from Biblical Studies (100s) and 30 credits from Christian Thought and History of Christianity (200 – 300s) OR 75 credits minimum from Indigenous Studies for the Indigenous Theology track.
TOTAL CREDITS REQUIRED		120

Elective courses are selected from the BMIn and BTheol course schedule.

TRACKS

- Biblical Studies
- Theology
- Christian Leadership
- Mission & Intercultural
- Spiritual Formation
- Indigenous Theology Track (see page 21 for further details, available at the Henderson Campus only)

For details of these pathways and for programme planning support please contact the School of Theology.

INDIGENOUS THEOLOGY TRACK

Drawing upon multidisciplinary quality teaching, learning and research, Laidlaw's Indigenous Theology track draws students into an exploration of the Gospel in and through indigenous contexts. In doing this, it aims to contribute to the growth and development of Māori and Indigenous peoples, and indigenous approaches to Christian theology.

The Indigenous Theology track can be taken as a part-time option within the Graduate Diploma in Theology programme, and some of the courses that make up this particular track may also be taken as part of a Laidlaw undergraduate degree. Options to take these courses for credit outside of a programme (Certificate of Proficiency) or non-formally are also available.

INDIGENOUS THEOLOGY TRACK OPTIONS
LEVEL	SUBJECT	CREDITS
5	An Introductory course	15
6	A minimum of one level 6 course	15
7	A minimum of 75 credits	75
5-7	One additional course at levels 5-7	15
TOTAL CREDITS REQUIRED		120

COURSES

The Graduate Certificate in Theology or Graduate Diploma in Theology will be made up of courses selected from those offered within the School of Theology undergraduate programmes. Note that in the case of the GradCertTh and GradDipTh, course pre-requisite and co-requisite regulations may be waived.

For a list of courses that can be selected toward the Graduate Diploma in Theology, please refer to page 37.

Transition to Masters Level Study

Completion of the programme does not guarantee automatic entry into the Master of Theology. In order to gain entry into the MTh students must obtain an average grade of 7.0 (B) in level 6 and 7 courses.

Please note: Students who wish to complete an MTh, having no previous formal theological study, may consider the one-year GradDipTh followed by the two-year, 240 credit MTh to be the best option. However, the GradDipTh, because of its necessarily limited selection of courses, can leave students without a well-balanced exposure to the full spectrum of biblical, historical, theological and practical subject areas. This can be a disadvantage for students who may wish to consider the possibility of doctoral study. Students in this situation should discuss their study plans with the Head of School before beginning the GradDipTh.

ADMISSIONS REQUIREMENTS

GENERAL ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The normal requirement for admission into the GradDipTh programme is a completed undergraduate degree, or higher qualification, as defined in the National Qualifications Framework of the NZQA.

POSTGRADUATE PROGRAMMES

LAIDLAW GRADUATE SCHOOL

A COMMUNITY OF DISCOVERY AT LAIDLAW

Laidlaw takes seriously the belief that knowledge comes in community. We 'love to know.' Advanced research and reflection on the implications of the Gospel are important—indeed, essential—contributions to the Kingdom of God. Our desire is to build a community which celebrates learning and discovery and conversation. All students and faculty are invited to contribute to this culture through regular seminars, advanced independent and collaborative research and the sharing of discoveries through publication.

It is recognised that postgraduate study is costly. It takes time, commitment and effort and some find it necessary to study part-time at this level. Laidlaw Graduate School courses are therefore organised around teaching blocks which enable work and family commitments to be planned and organised in advance. However, Laidlaw also offers a number of resources which can make full-time study more possible. The more engaged you are able to be with the community of discovery at Laidlaw the more fruitful will be your postgraduate experience.

Courses and seminars are designed to build community, create conversation and promote excellence.

Courses are typically scheduled around teaching blocks, with required reading in preparation, and classroom input across one or two weeks. Whilst students work independently on their assessments, courses are structured to enable engagement with expertise and other perspectives. The richness of the shared experience of learning is at the heart of a community of discovery.

Seminars are held regularly during the year. All students and research faculty are encouraged to attend. Here you gain support in your own research, hear the fruits and struggles of others, gain essential experience in communicating your findings, and gain from dialogue with other disciplines.

 - Associate Pastor
 - Christian writing
 - Church based ministries
 - Cross-cultural ministries
 - Inter-cultural ministries
 - Para-church work
 - Pastoral ministry
- Professional development
- Effective service as a church member
- Personal Christian growth
- Workplace Christians
- Further study at master's and doctoral level

OUTLINE

The Postgraduate Diploma in Theology (PGDipTh) programme provides an advanced level theological qualification for those who have already completed a recognised Bachelor's level or a Graduate Diploma qualification in Theology. The PGDipTh programme consists of taught courses.

Also, students who successfully complete taught papers in the MTh programme amounting to at least 120 credits, but who do not wish to complete a research project, or who have not achieved the required grade point average (7.0 in 90 credits at Level 8) to allow them to do so will be awarded the PGDipTh.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Candidates will be admitted to the Postgraduate Diploma in Theology programme:

- Where the candidate has completed a recognized three-year Bachelor's degree in Theology or Ministry, with a grade point average of 7.0 (B) in courses of the qualifying undergraduate programme at NZQA levels 6 and 7.
- Where the candidate holds a recognised Bachelor's level degree in a discipline other than Theology or Ministry and has completed a bridging programme such as Laidlaw's 120 credit Graduate Diploma in Theology with a grade point average of 7.0 (B) at NZQA level 7.
- In exceptional circumstances, the PGC may allow entry to candidates who hold Laidlaw's 60 credit Graduate Certificate in Theology with a grade point average of 7.0 (B) at NZQA level 7.

Master of Theology (MTh)

PROGRAMME SUMMARY

NQF Level	9 – 120, 180 or 240 credits
Duration	Full-time for 2-4 semesters, part-time options available
Places	Open – Selection criteria apply
Campus	Henderson
Tuition Fee	$6,930 per full-time year of study plus Student Services Fee
Web	www.laidlaw.ac.nz/postgraduate-study

OUTLINE

The Master of Theology (MTh) programme provides an advanced level theological qualification for those who have already completed a recognised Bachelor's level qualification in theology and want to upgrade their qualifications in a specific area to extend their understanding of Christian ministries. The MTh combines a programme of taught courses and written thesis or dissertation. The degree provides opportunity for Master's level biblical and theological study related to the fields of Biblical Studies, Christian Thought and History, Mission and Pastoral Studies and Professional Studies.

ACCELERATED PATHWAYS

Theology graduates may pursue postgraduate study by an accelerated pathway which reduces the credit requirements of the MTh. With careful planning a full-time student may be able to complete the degree within a calendar year! See Admission Requirements and Pathways.

STRUCTURE

The Master of Theology degree is at least 240 credits except where:

- it builds on a Bachelor's degree with Honours or an equivalent qualification, or significant relevant professional experience, in which case it can be fewer than 240 but no fewer than 120 credits of which no less than 90 must be at NZQA level 9.
- it builds on a three-year Bachelor's degree or an equivalent qualification completed with a Grade Point average of at least 7.0 (B) in level 6 & 7 courses, in which case it can be fewer than 240 but no fewer than 180 credits of which no less than 60 must be at NZQA level 9.

OBJECTIVES

On completion of the MTh programme, students should be able to:

- evaluate critically a wide spectrum of literature in each of the coursework areas and in the areas of the research undertaken;
- demonstrate mastery of the issues of debate in each of these areas;
- give a fair and informed account of representative points of view in each subject area;
- write a coherent narrative survey which is internally consistent, interacts critically with central issues, and demonstrates ability to form a reasoned opinion;
- utilise sound hermeneutical principles in contextualising biblical theology within the subject areas studied;
- demonstrate advanced skills of research, critical analysis and constructive synthesis, and application so as to make a significant contribution to knowledge in their area of specialisation;
- demonstrate the distinctive contribution of biblical and theological principles to central issues in their subject areas;
- participate in the international academic discussion of their field of study with a competence appropriate to Master's level;
- reflect on the professional, ethical and relational implications of their study for ministry in the modern world; and
- make available to the service of the church appropriate aspects of current scholarship in their field of study.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS AND FLEXIBLE STRUCTURES

Candidates will be admitted to the Master of Theology programme:

LEVEL 8 ENTRY

MTh degree may be completed with 180 credits:

- Where the candidate has completed a recognized three-year Bachelor's degree in Theology or Ministry, with a grade point average of 7.0 (B) in courses of the qualifying undergraduate programme at NZQA levels 6 and 7.

MTh degree requires 240 credits:

- Where the candidate holds a recognised Bachelor's level degree in a discipline other than Theology or Ministry and has completed a bridging programme such as Laidlaw's 120 credit Graduate Diploma in Theology with a grade point average of 7.0 (B) at NZQA level 7.
- In exceptional circumstances, the PGC may allow entry to candidates who hold Laidlaw's 60 credit Graduate Certificate in Theology with a grade point average of 7.0 (B) at NZQA level 7.

LEVEL 9 ENTRY

MTh degree may be completed with 120 credits

- Where the candidate has completed a four-year Honours degree in Theology or Ministry with first or second class honours.
- Where the candidate has completed a Laidlaw Postgraduate Diploma in Theology with merit.

Advanced Research Degrees (MPhil, PhD)

The Master of Philosophy (MPhil) and Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) are advanced research degrees, suitable for preparation to be an academic scholar and teacher. Under a memorandum of agreement with Auckland University of Technology (AUT), graduates of Laidlaw Graduate School may apply to enrol in the AUT MPhil or PhD programme and to undertake research in theology under the supervision or co-supervision of LGS faculty. Such students are subject in all respects to the regulations of AUT and should familiarise themselves with the AUT Calendar available on the AUT website www.aut.ac.nz. Students interested in this option should consult the Head of School.

Under another agreement, with the Department of Theology and Religious Studies at University of Otago, students may apply to enrol in the Otago PhD with an endorsement from Laidlaw Graduate School. If accepted by Otago they may then satisfy the Otago residency requirements in Auckland and, with the approval of Otago, receive some of their supervision from LGS.

Further details on Doctoral level options are available on the AUT website www.aut.ac.nz or the Otago website www.otago.ac.nz. Students interested in this option should consult the Head of School.

General Information

MODES OF STUDY

Laidlaw students are able to study in a variety of modes – some entirely on campus (but across campuses); entirely by distance; and a mix of on-campus and distance courses configured flexibly for the student. Some courses are also taught as blocks during our intensives weeks. We also offer a selection of summer school courses, by Distance Learning.

DISTANCE LEARNING

Distance Learning is an integral part of Laidlaw's academic delivery. Two of Laidlaw's four degree level qualifications, the Bachelor of Theology (BTheol) and the Bachelor of Ministries (BMin), as well as the Diploma in Christian Studies (DipCS), the Graduate Certificate in Theology (GradCertTh) and the Graduate Diploma of Theology (GradDipTh) are available by distance learning. Distance Learning gives students flexibility around when and where they undertake their study. Distance courses follow the same academic processes and standards as Laidlaw's campus-based courses. For further details about this mode of study please email admissions@laidlaw.ac.nz or call 09 836 7829.

ON CAMPUS STUDY

Laidlaw College has three physical campuses in Henderson and Manukau in Auckland, and in Christchurch, as well as its Distance Learning mode of delivery. Please refer to the programme matrix in this Handbook to determine which programmes can be studied at each campus.

Booth College of Mission in Upper Hutt is also an accredited delivery site for the Diploma in Christian Studies.

CERTIFICATE OF PROFICIENCY

Students who wish to study for credit but do not plan to complete one of Laidlaw's NZQA-accredited programmes will be enrolled in the Laidlaw Certificate of Proficiency (COP). Students must meet all normal academic requirements for COP courses. Such students will be awarded a Laidlaw Certificate of Proficiency for completed courses. The credits gained for such courses can be cross-credited into one of Laidlaw's NZQA-accredited qualifications at a future date at no cost, should students choose to do so. Students enrolled in COP courses are not eligible for student loans and allowances.

NON-FORMAL STUDY

Students who wish to attend lectures at one of Laidlaw's campuses but not complete assessments will be enrolled as non-formal students. Students who choose this option do not receive academic credit, nor can they upgrade to credit at a future time. This option is not available for Distance Learning courses. There may be limited places for non-formal study in each course. Normally, non-formal study will only be available within the School of Theology.

BICULTURAL UNDERSTANDING

Laidlaw College believes strongly in the fostering of bicultural understanding as part of its affirmation of the implications of the Treaty of Waitangi. Students involved in undergraduate programmes will participate in the Laidlaw-arranged Marae visit as part of their programme of study. In preparation for the Marae visit, a special orientation is given, and a simple evaluation report will be completed after the visit. If it is impossible for a student to attend, an application for an alternative assignment, involving an understanding of Marae protocol and culture from a Christian perspective, may be applied for in its place.

HOW MUCH DOES IT COST?

Please see the programme descriptions in this handbook or the Laidlaw Fees Schedule (www.laidlaw.ac.nz/fees) for tuition and other costs associated with studying at Laidlaw.

DOMESTIC AND INTERNATIONAL STUDENT COSTS

The New Zealand government helps subsidise the cost of study for domestic students. Domestic students are defined as citizens of New Zealand living anywhere in the world, or citizens of Niue, Tokelau, Cook Islands or Australia who are living in New Zealand, or people who are Permanent Residents of Australia (restrictions apply) or New Zealand who are living in New Zealand.

International (i.e. non-domestic) students are not subsidised by New Zealand government funding. International students are therefore required to pay the international fees, which more accurately reflect the true cost of the training provided.

Permanent Residents of New Zealand who study while residing overseas are considered international students. Please see the International Prospectus for full notes on these topics.

STUDENT LOANS AND ALLOWANCES

All programmes offered by Laidlaw have been approved by the New Zealand Qualifications Authority for student allowance and student loan purposes, with the exception of the Postgraduate Diploma in Theology and the Master of Theology (only student loans available) and Certificate of Proficiency (neither loans nor allowances available). Full-time and part-time domestic students may access student loans. However, student allowances are usually only available to students who are enrolled in at least 48 credits per semester (four courses) or 96 credits per year (seven courses). Student loans are usually only available to those who are enrolled in at least 30 credits per year (two courses). We encourage you to seek advice from Studylink in regard to your access to loans and allowances based on your enrollment.

Student loans and allowances are processed and administered directly by StudyLink. Students who intend applying for student loans and/or allowances should contact StudyLink directly on 0800 889 900 or online at www.studylink.govt.nz.

We highly recommend students start the application process with StudyLink four to six weeks before the beginning of the semester.

ENROLMENT DOCUMENTS AND PAYMENT OF FEES

Close to the beginning of the semester some important documents will be forwarded to you. These include:

PUBLIC TRUST FORM

Laidlaw uses Public Trust to provide its fee protection services. Student fees are held in a trust account with Public Trust and released to Laidlaw gradually over the course of the year. Laidlaw will provide students with a Public Trust form to complete and sign in order to have these funds released. If any enrolment changes are made which lead to a change in fees, an updated version of this form will need to be signed.

In the second semester you won't need to complete a new form unless you did not study in the first semester or have changed some details affecting your fees.

Please see the Laidlaw Fees Schedule (www.laidlaw.ac.nz/fees) for full details.

NATIONAL ENROLMENT CONTRACT

It is a Ministry of Education requirement that we have a signed copy of this form on file. The Public Trust form and the National enrolment contract form both need to be signed and returned to Laidlaw. Please follow the instructions provided with the forms carefully.

PAYMENT OF FEES

You will receive an invoice for your fees and these must be paid by the due date. Please contact the Finance Office (financeoffice@laidlaw.ac.nz) for any queries relating to fees.

If a student loan is not being applied for, payment can be made by cheque, cash, EFTPOS, credit card or direct credit. Laidlaw's bank account details are included on all invoices. Fee payment dates must be strictly observed as penalties for late payments may apply. Please refer to the Laidlaw Fees Schedule (www.laidlaw.ac.nz/fees) for details.

If the signed Public Trust form and National Enrolment Contract have not been received and payment of fees has not occurred by the due date, it may not be possible to continue study at Laidlaw, and access to Moodle may be blocked.

RESOURCES AND GUIDES

There are several other key resources that students will need to refer to in addition to this handbook. These are:

GENERAL RESOURCES

1. Laidlaw College website (www.laidlaw.ac.nz)

2. Moodle

This is Laidlaw's Online Learning Management System (learn.laidlaw.ac.nz), it is a web-based educational tool which is integrated with the course materials. It is a key part of the learning experience as it provides a 'virtual classroom' for online interaction. Students submit their assignments through Moodle, and receive them back there once they have been marked.

3. Laidlaw Graduate School Student Guide

This guide is essential for all students studying at postgraduate level, including the PGDipTh, MTh and PhD.

4. General Information and Regulations

This important document details Laidlaw academic regulations and policies. It can be found online at www.laidlaw.ac.nz/prospectus. It contains important study related information such as cross-crediting, assignment extension policies, what happens if a fail grade is received for an assessment, etc. Students are encouraged to familiarise themselves with the information and regulations contained in it.

5. Help for Study, Assignments and Exams

This resource area is available on Moodle under the Information menu (learn.laidlaw.ac.nz). It contains the following useful information:

- The Laidlaw Study Guide, which is a document designed to help students to be successful in their studies and contains many helpful hints and guidelines about essay writing, how to study, etc.
- Assignment and research information
- The official guide to assignment writing
- A list of recommended websites for different subject areas
- Student book sales and discussion forums
- Academic Software and Books discounts
- Previous exams can be found in Help for Study, Assignments and Exams and look for the Assignments and Research Section on Moodle.

6. Course Outlines (COs) and Course Assessment and Delivery Outlines (CADOs)

These official course documents are available under the Course Outlines and CADOs area under the Information tab on Moodle (learn.laidlaw.ac.nz). Course Outlines contain the course description and the learning outcomes associated with that course. CADOs contain information regarding the course structure, assessments, textbooks etc. Each CADO is specific to a campus or mode of delivery. Students should access the correct version of the CADO, one that matches the campus or mode of delivery and level for the course enrolled in. It is crucial that students familiarise themselves with the information in these documents for each course they are studying.

SUPPORT AND COMMUNICATION

ORIENTATION

Laidlaw College is committed to the success of its students and seeks to provide appropriate support to this end. Prior to or during the first week of lectures in each semester it is required that all new students studying on campus will attend Orientation. This is a time where new students will be made aware of the structure of student support and academic expectations. Students who complete Orientation will receive resources and system demonstrations preparing them for what is expected at Laidlaw College, and leave them better able to achieve their academic goals.

In order to ensure successful study all new students (those studying by distance and on campus) must complete a short online orientation course before their first semester of study. This free course, called “Studying@Laidlaw” is run as a distance learning course and exposes students to the techniques and expectations of study. This course is held during the two weeks prior to the beginning of each academic semester for distance learning students and for the week before and first week of the semester for on campus students. It requires no more than 10 hours of study time and is conducted through Moodle using online interaction with a tutor.

Please contact the campus or school administrator for more information regarding Orientation.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Laidlaw’s academic support is managed by the Centre for Learning (CFL). CFL provides academic support for all students, including those who are studying by distance learning. Our main goal is to help you succeed in your studies.

Contact us (studentsupport@laidlaw.ac.nz) if you need help with:

- an assignment
- essay writing
- referencing
- time management
- exam preparation
- how to study effectively

We also hold a number of workshops throughout the year to help you in your study.

EMAIL COMMUNICATION PROCEDURES

Laidlaw will provide Microsoft Office 365 to all students. All Laidlaw College students will be issued with a Laidlaw email address based on the student ID number (studentID@student.laidlaw.ac.nz). Student email addresses will be used by Laidlaw staff to communicate with students. Please note that all email correspondence from the College will be sent to this address once the account has been created.

It is the student’s responsibility to ensure that emails are checked regularly. All communication forwarded to a student email address will be considered to have been received by that student.

Instructions for using the @student.laidlaw.ac.nz email address will be provided during Orientation.

COURSES

Laidlaw undergraduate courses are 15 or 30 credits. Each credit approximates to 10 hours of total study time, so each 15 credit course will take about 150 hours of study or approximately 10 hours per week. This includes lectures if you are studying on campus or working through the course materials if you are studying by distance, the reading associated with the course, and all assessment tasks.

However, this is a guide only, and will vary somewhat from student to student, from course to course, and from week to week. In addition, while the 10 hour per credit guideline is designed to allow students to meet the learning outcomes of each course, students who wish to dig deeper into a subject and pursue further reading and research of their own will inevitably spend more time.

Each of our programmes can be studied either part time or full time. Students have the flexibility to choose from one course up to the full time load of four courses (60 credits) per semester. Full time study will require an average of 40-45 hours per week for study. Students must be realistic about how much study they are able to undertake alongside part-time or full-time employment. Students usually find that full-time employment makes it possible to study only one course per semester.

The majority of our courses are semester length, and begin in either late February or late July. Please see the Key Dates on page 56.

Please see the Laidlaw Graduate School Student Guide for information regarding postgraduate courses.

COURSE SELECTION

When choosing courses students should consult with Academic Support (studentsupport@laidlaw.ac.nz) to develop a Programme of Study plan.

Developing a Programme of Study plan is essential, especially for students intending to complete the Bachelor of Ministries or Bachelor of Theology degree, even if the Diploma of Christian studies will be completed first. Students can also seek advice from other Laidlaw staff as appropriate.

Returning students must complete their course selection by the required date at the beginning of each year of study, or by the required date prior to semester two if they did not study in semester one. If students intend to take a break from study for one or two semesters, then this intention must be communicated to Student Administration Services.

The link to the Course Selection form can be found on Moodle in the Forms area under the Information menu.

LIMIT ON STUDY LOAD

In the interests of a student's academic success Laidlaw reserves the right to limit the number of courses a student may take in any given semester.

Students need to be aware that access to the student allowance may be compromised by such a restriction. It is the student's responsibility to be aware of these implications.

MAKING ENROLMENT CHANGES

To make changes to enrolment details a Change to Enrolment Form must be completed. This form is available on Moodle in the Forms area under the Information menu (learn.laidlaw.ac.nz). An application to change enrolment details will be approved by the School of Theology and submitted to Student Administration Services.

This form can be used to apply to:

- change or update your personal details
- change, add or withdraw from a course
- defer your studies for one to four semesters
- change or withdraw from the programme you are enrolled in.

Please see the Laidlaw General Information and Regulations document (www.laidlaw.ac.nz/prospectus) for Laidlaw's policies regarding changing, adding or withdrawing from courses.

For further assistance please contact the Student Support at theology@laidlaw.ac.nz.

ASSESSMENTS

Each course will have several assessment tasks. Information regarding these assessments is found on the Course Assessment and Delivery Outline (CADO) for each course.

FORMATTING

All written work must conform to Laidlaw's Guidelines for Written Assignments document. This document offers detailed guidelines for the writing and formatting of written assignments, including how to format footnotes, references and bibliographies. It is available on Moodle in the Rules and Regulations area under the Information menu. This information is also contained in the Laidlaw Study Guide (see page 31). Please refer to these guidelines.

We encourage students to make wise use of the grammar and spell checks on their computer's word processor when preparing assignments.

A selection of sample assignments are available to help students understand what makes for a successful essay. Students are encouraged to look over these if they are not sure what is expected. They can be found on Moodle in the Example Essays section following the Information > Help for Study, Assignments and Exams and Research menu.

SUBMISSION

All written assessments, apart from exams, are submitted and, once marked, returned through Moodle. Written assessments are automatically submitted to Turnitin, an online plagiarism detector, for checking. For further information about this please refer to chapter 7 in the IT Handbook.

Policy on late submission of assignments

If it is going to be challenging to finish an assessment on time, students may apply for an extension to the due date of the assignment. However, students need to be aware that extensions will normally be given only for reasons of ill-health (a medical certificate will be required) or on compassionate grounds because of unexpected events. Normally extensions will be given for no longer than two weeks and not normally past the end of the semester. Late or verbal requests will not be considered. It is expected that students manage their other commitments in such a way that submitting assignments on time is not jeopardized.

In these cases, we expect students to work with an academic support advisor and create an individual learning plan, to increase their overall chance of success. Please contact Student Support in this regard (studentsupport@laidlaw.ac.nz).

Students may apply for an extension using the online form on Moodle available from the Electronic Assignment Submission area on the course page. This will be approved or declined by Student Support and students will be notified by email.

Penalties for lateness

- Assignments handed in past the due date, without properly granted extensions, will result in a grade reduction of 10% of the grade awarded for that assignment if it is submitted within 7 days of due date or approved extension date.
- Assignments submitted between 8 and 14 days after the due date or approved extension date will be graded on a pass/fail basis and will be awarded a grade no more than 50%.
- Assignments submitted beyond 14 days of the due date or approved extension date will not be graded.
- No work can be submitted later than the last day of the semester.

Students cannot pass a course unless each piece of assessment has been seriously attempted.

Please see the Assessment and Grading section of Laidlaw's General Information and Regulations document for further details.

An application to resubmit an assessment or sit a supplementary exam must be received within two weeks of receiving notification of the fail grade. Students may apply using the online form on Moodle available from the Electronic Assignment Submission area on the course page. This will be approved or declined by Student Support and students will be notified by email.

RECEIVING A FAIL GRADE

Students who receive a D grade for an assessment will be eligible to repeat the assessment once by resubmitting an assignment or sitting a supplementary examination. Please see the "Assessment Resubmission" and "Supplementary Examinations" regulations in the Assessment and Grading section of Laidlaw's General Information and Regulations document for full details (www.laidlaw.ac.nz/prospectus).

An application to resubmit an assessment or sit a supplementary exam must be received within two weeks of receiving notification of the fail grade. Students may apply using the online form on Moodle available from the Electronic Assignment Submission area on the course page. This will be approved or declined by Student Support and students will be notified by email.

GRADUATION

Each year Laidlaw graduations are conducted in both Auckland and Christchurch (please check the Key Dates on page 56 for specific dates). In order to graduate a student must have completed all the requirements of the award.

Students must apply by 31 January for the graduation ceremony or by 31 October for the end of year graduation (no ceremony) to receive their certificate. Please apply online on the Laidlaw website (www.laidlaw.ac.nz/student-info/graduation). Students who are not attending a graduation ceremony still need to apply in order to receive their certificate.

Distance Learning students who are graduating are also encouraged to attend one of these events to receive their awards.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

Following is a list of the course descriptions for courses offered by the School of Theology (as at December 2017). For a list of courses to be offered at each campus in a given year (including those delivered by Distance Learning), the scheduling of face-to-face courses, required texts and exams, please consult the Laidlaw website (www.laidlaw.ac.nz/student-info/timetables).

COURSE NUMBERING AND CREDIT SYSTEM

The Laidlaw course numbering system follows this pattern:

- The first digit indicates the field of study (e.g. 1 = Biblical Studies, 8 = Education, 9 = Counselling).
- The second and third digits further define the level and/or subject area (e.g. 120 = Old Testament).
- The first digit after the decimal point indicates the National Qualifications Framework level.
- The second and third digits after the decimal point indicate the credit value of the course (e.g. 15 = 15 credits, 30 = 30 credits).
- One credit is equivalent to ten hours of learning. A 15 credit course = 150 hours of learning.

511.615/715 Pastoral Care in Community

This course is an introduction to the principles and practices of pastoral care in, through and beyond the local church. The course is grounded in a vision of community as a paradigm for transformation and carries a fundamental commitment to care of the whole person. Within this relational frame, various approaches to pastoral care, care in life's stages and transitions as well as care of the carers will be explored.

513.615/715 Pastoral Care in Life's Crises

This course explores pastoral approaches to significant life crises, including experiences of loss, death and dying, getting married, divorce, alcoholism, mild depression, past hurts, developmental issues.

520.715 Formative Anglicanism as Missional Church

This course explores Anglican 'DNA' through a study of the formative period, investigating the rationale and nature of innovations and changes introduced at this seminal time. The course identifies the theological and 'missional' thinking that gave shape to the sense of purpose and calling of the English Church and where this might take us in addressing the challenges of our present context.

521.715 Missional and Pastoral: Contemporary Expressions of Anglican Ministry

This course addresses the need to clarify the relationship between ministry by all the baptised and the specific responsibilities associated with each of the threefold Anglican modes of ordained ministry: deacons, presbyters (or priests), and bishops. Each of these ministry orders is reviewed from biblical, historical and theological perspectives, identifying distinctive characteristics and spheres of ministry focus or responsibilities. Questions of the parish model, alternative models of ministry, team ministry, and wider relationships of support, resourcing and accountability are all addressed.

522.715 Anglican Worship: Liturgical Shape and Spiritual Depth

This course explores the nature and shape of liturgy in relation to a theology of Anglican worship. It presents a theological framework for a critical analysis of historical and cultural patterns shaping the form and content of Anglican worship and liturgy. The course also involves the development of skills for constructing authentic contemporary evangelical Anglican liturgy in the light of a sound Trinitarian theology of worship.

524.715 Preaching: Anglican Approaches and Practice

This course informs students of the Anglican tradition of preaching from scripture, and the role of preaching in Anglican mission over time and place. The course is further targeted to help prepare students to preach biblical sermons that witness to the good news of God in Jesus Christ and that connect with audiences across a breadth of culture and context.

525.615 Anglican Bicultural Mission

The course is designed to inform and up-skill students who do not have a strong connection to Māoritanga and Tikanga, with the purpose of enabling them in connecting with and ministering within the Tikanga Māori environment of the Anglican Church and to enable the pursuit of bicultural mission at a local level. The course firstly involves an introduction to basic Te Reo, including fundamentals for Anglican Māori settings and then moves to a closer engagement with Anglican Tikanga partnership, and particularly with questions relating to the pursuit of bicultural mission partnership. A week immersed in a predominantly Māori Anglican setting is a central feature of this course. The course assumes a certain familiarity with Anglican Church history in Aotearoa.

530.515 Ministry with Children and Families

This course introduces students to biblical and theological foundations for ministry with children, their caregivers, and wider family units, including effective and sustainable ministry, engagement with theory and practical approaches, and pastoral responses.

531.515 Human Development and Learning

In the context of a Christian perspective this course seeks to provide an overview of human development from conception to death and an understanding of the psychology of humankind and the characteristics of learning, with reference to several theorists.

535.615/715 Family Life Ministry

This course explores the family as an educative unit; biblical expectations. Family systems theory and genogram development. Contemporary families: pressures and trends. The church and the family: responsibilities and opportunities. Intergenerational and family services. Christian parenting. The Christian family in society. The pastor and the family.

540.615 Youth Ministry: Discipleship

This course explores the key relational aspects of effective youth ministry with an emphasis on developing young people personally and spiritually. Students will gain a deeper understanding of relationships between aspects of youth culture and the discipleship of young people. Topics covered in the course include biblical and theological understandings of discipleship, cultural and personal identity formation, family dynamics, adolescent human development, and appropriate communications and mentoring strategies.

547.615/715 Church, Young Adults and the Journey of Faith

This course explores the challenge of ministry to young adults and the sort of places faith communities need to be for emerging generations. Church and the faith journey is explored through an examination of rituals, stage of life transitions, the phenomena of church switching, and a critical engagement with worship and preaching. Participants will be required to engage with sociological theory and their own experience in order to think critically about ecclesiology.

548.615/715 Youth Subcultures, Popular Culture and Theology

This course introduces students to youth subcultures, their historical emergence, and their various forms today. Popular culture is closely intertwined with youth subcultures. This course provides a sociological and theological interpretation of popular culture as a location of meaning and significance for young people. Topics include consumption, advertising, music, fashion, film and TV, and globalisation.

549.615/715 Relational/Incarnational Youth Ministry

This course gives attention to the common youth ministry practice of relational or incarnational ministry. The student will be led through the historical, sociological, and theological presumptions that brought this practice to the forefront of ministerial action with and for adolescents. The course explores how this practice is different in the New Zealand context, comparing the practices developed in the American context. By both deconstructing and then reconstructing the practice, the course desires to provide students with a truly relational youth ministry that he or she can use in his or her ministry context.

550.615/715 Theology and Experience of Disability

This course surveys the ways the experience of disability is understood both in the church and beyond. Biblical Texts and doctrines relating to disability are then investigated, before considering how we might minister effectively in the context of disability.

557.515 Introduction and Theology of Evangelism

This course gives a biblical and theological foundation for evangelism. It is an introduction to the concepts, motivations, processes and issues of evangelism in the contemporary world.

559.515 Evangelism: Past, Present and Future

This course gives an overview of the history of evangelism and evangelistic methods. There is an analysis of the current evangelism scene, with a particular emphasis on how evangelism needs to be tailored to the mindset and presuppositions of contemporary society and trends (e.g. postmodernism, generation X, etc.) A survey of possible future trends in evangelism based on current research in the area.

561.615 Introduction to Preaching

The purpose of this course is to help prepare students to preach biblical sermons that witness to the good news of Jesus Christ. Preaching is an event where we participate with the triune God in faithfully proclaiming the Gospel so that people may faithfully respond.

564.615/715 Preaching in Cultural Context

Through this course, students will identify trends in culture and explore modes of communication likely to be effective in a variety of cultural contexts. Students will examine how narrative functions to create meaning, and will engage multiple genres within and without the Scriptural narrative to engage, interpret, apply, and incarnate the text in faithful, creative, and prophetic ways. Special attention will be given to the link between ecclesiology and preaching. Using a collaborative environment, we will seek to nurture the heart and head of the preacher as well as the art and craft of preaching.

575.615/715 Pastoral Leadership and Management

This course explores the integration of biblical, theological, leadership, and management perspectives for church ministry. Students will critically evaluate a range of approaches and work toward a personal philosophy of church leadership and management.

576.615/715 Missional Leadership

This course will investigate the life and theology of the missional church and its practices, with specific attention to formative processes that occur for leaders and communities in the midst of cultural engagement. Through this course students will examine how personal dynamics inform and shape the habits and practices of leaders. This course will also explore the ways in which mission to the West is a contextual, theological, and structural challenge that requires deep engagement in each.

577.615/715 Issues in Pentecostal Theology & Practice

This course provides an integrated (historical, biblical, theological and pastoral) and critical analysis of key distinctive issues in the theology and pastoral practice of the Pentecostal, Charismatic, Third Wave and Word of Faith/Prosperity churches. This course is a 'critique from within' which aims to bring together academic and pastoral concerns and to foster a critical engagement between academic Pentecostal studies and popular global Pentecostalism.

580.630 Clinical Pastoral Education A

An action-reflection approach to formation for the work of pastoral care. This course entails the actual provision of pastoral care within a pastoral setting together with the exploration of the ministry experience, the dynamics present, and the theological dimensions.

581.715 Clinical Pastoral Education B

An advanced reflection on the practice and principles of pastoral care. The course explores the integration of personhood and presence with pastoral ministry.

585.715 Research Topic

(This is a full year course)

This course provides an opportunity for preparing an extended research paper of 6,000–8,000 words on a topic not specifically covered elsewhere in a student's programme of study in their final year. It requires the development of research skills and the ability to present a sustained argument on an issue of some complexity. A Research Topic may be proposed in any subject area. Only one Research Topic may be credited to a BMin, a BTheol or a GradDipTh. Research topic may only be undertaken with the approval of the Head of School.

600–39 CROSS-CULTURAL MISSION

603.615/715 Cultural Anthropology

This course offers an introduction to cultural anthropology as an aid to mission and ministry in multi-cultural contexts. The course focuses on the use of anthropological tools and concepts as a means of understanding one's own culture and being able to engage effectively with people in other cultural settings.

605.615/715 Biblical and Contemporary Theology of Mission

This course considers what a biblical theology of mission is and examines the application of the Bible to contemporary issues in mission. It also provides an overview of how these issues were debated through some of the major mission conferences in the twentieth century. It provides an opportunity to integrate biblical, theological and other studies for mission in today's world.

607.615/715 Christianity and World Religions

This course is an introduction to the Christian study of world religions, theology of religions and issues relating to pluralism, community relationships, dialogue and evangelism. There is an introduction to primal religions, Islam, Eastern religions such as Hinduism and Buddhism, as well as alternative or neo-pagan spiritualities in Western contexts. The course balances sympathetic appreciation, understanding and sensitivity with positive evangelistic commitment.

608.615/715 Survey of Islam

This course provides students with a general knowledge of Islamic history, with particular reference to Southeast Asian and Australasian contexts, as well as the core doctrines and the institutions of the Islamic faith. It also considers contemporary developments and trends in global Islam and introduces students to the principles and methods of Christian-Muslim relations.

611.515 Intercultural Studies: Introduction

This course introduces students to intercultural and mission studies, examining how culture, context and understanding of God's mission in the world influences personal engagement in intercultural ministry and mission.

612.615/715 Majority World Theology

This course offers an introductory look at 'local' theologies. It considers how cultures bring differences of emphasis and insight into their reading of Scripture and ways in which evaluation is still required and possible as the Gospel is related to the worldviews of particular contexts.

615.615 Mission in Practice

This course examines specific practical issues that cross-cultural workers face in ministry. It covers such subjects as 'the call', entry and re-entry, culture shock, relationships with other colleagues, the local church, government and the home church, as well as authority, spiritual warfare, business as mission, being single or married, communication, stress and time management.

617.615/715 Mercy, Justice and Social Transformation

A study of theological and biblical bases for aid and development, discussion of alternative Christian and secular viewpoints on development issues. A study of practical responses and an evaluation of project methodology in particular cases. A study of the particular features of urban mission, taking into account a biblical view of the city, the development of urbanization in history, and the range of Christian developmental responses to the special needs of people in cities.

640-49 MĀORI STUDIES

645.715 Māori Christianity

This course introduces students to Christianity with particular emphasis upon Māori experience, concepts and principles. It locates an indigenous Māori approach to theology within the broader scope of Christian theology. It weaves together the threads of Bible, theology, spiritual insight, experience, and culture in Māori perspective to develop a framework for engaging the Gospel in contemporary Aotearoa New Zealand.

646.715 Māori Christianity II

This course introduces students to Christianity with emphasis upon mōteatea (lament, traditional chant, sung poetry) concepts and principles. It locates an indigenous Māori approach to hermeneutics within the broader scope of Christian theology. It weaves together the threads of Bible, theology, spiritual insight, experience, and culture in Māori perspective to develop a framework for engaging the Gospel in contemporary Aotearoa New Zealand.

647.715 Wairuatanga

This course explores Christian indigenous interpretations of the interface of the spiritual and the material (wairuatanga). Insights are drawn from a range of sources including Māori prophetic and church traditions, Māori art, literature and film, the Old Testament prophetic tradition, and the New Testament. It upholds that awareness of spiritual/material interdependence through the Gospel and creation offers insight to healing and wellbeing.

648.615/715 Māori Perspectives on Galatians

An exploration of the ways Paul's letter to the Galatians opens up dynamics at work when the Gospel of Christ encounters Māori culture and indigenous values and beliefs. The course gives attention to the way faith in Christ fulfils and transforms our approach to the Old Testament and traditional belief systems. While developing and applying indigenous exegetical methods the course also addresses major issues of Gospel and culture interaction and contextualization.

649.515 Whakapapa: Introduction

This course introduces the kaupapa Māori concept of whakapapa (Atua/whenua/tangata) as a foundation for Māori and indigenous theology. It provides a framework for right relationship and ethical action based on Gospel narratives, tracing whakapapa through the Old Testament and leading to the Incarnation, Redemption, and Mission.

650.615/715 Māori Church/Community Leadership

This course applies a whare tapere (workshop) learning style to study and engage with Māori leadership styles. It studies significant Māori leaders from the 19th to the 21st centuries and offers the opportunity for course participants' to learn from each other about leadership of self and of others. It identifies the cultural and Christian aspects of empowerment and wellbeing of people and offers models to study for work among local and national communities today.

651.615/715 Indigenous Postcolonial Theology

This course studies indigenous postcolonial theologians' critiques of the historical and continuing relationship between Christianity and empire. It also explores how postcolonial theologies correspond with Māori theological principles and models and how diverse contexts draw on common strengths and solidarity.

652.615/715 Tikanga-a-Tangata

This course studies how cultural patterns shape all areas of our lives and experience. It explores how traditional Māori cultural systems of meaning and belief engage with traditional Christian systems of meaning and belief and how each informs and challenges the other toward transformation in Aotearoa.

653.715 Tikanga Rangahau

Working closely with the course co-ordinator this course offers the opportunity for in depth individual research on a particular aspect of Māori theology studied in the indigenous courses. The aim is to identify and become familiar with resources on the chosen topic, to strengthen knowledge base, and to comment and critique on findings.

650-99 MARKETPLACE STUDIES

665.615/715 Vocation Work and Ministry

This course explores the biblical and theological concept of calling in the light of the centrality of Christ. It examines historical developments in the understandings of vocation, work and ministry and different approaches to vocational guidance related to work and ministry in the community of faith and the world. Students will examine their own sense of calling and seek to clarify the nature of that call. It will also look at the role of the church in resourcing Christians for ministry in daily life.

800 EDUCATION

857.515 Human Development

This course surveys understandings of human development in conversation with Christian theological descriptions of a human being.

900 COUNSELLING

907.515 Bicultural Relationships

This course introduces students to personal and corporate responsibilities and obligations under the bicultural agreement Te Tiriti O Waitangi including ministry practices using Tikanga and Te Reo Maori. Students will participate in the Noho Marae overnight.

921.615/715 Theology of Suffering and Hope

This course explores questions about human suffering and the God who engages with humans at the level of their despair. It engages with how the Scriptures acknowledge human suffering, and looks at hope from a biblical, theological, anthropological and relational perspective.

APPENDIX

INTERNSHIP REGULATIONS

Internship programmes at Laidlaw College are designed to provide students with academic learning and practical experience in the context of church, cross-cultural ministry or community ministry, with the primary goal of integration. The goal of internship training is to see interns well prepared for life, mission and ministry through personal development, to know themselves and their context well, and to understand their ministry in light of the overarching redemptive story of the Bible. It will help students relate well, communicate well, lead well, and think well within their context and culture. Those completing a full BMin will work toward a philosophy of ministry that engages thoughtfully with Scripture, life, mission and ministry.

Internship is ideal for students wishing to maintain hands-on involvement in ministry while studying the one-year Diploma in Christian Studies (DipCS) or the three-year Bachelor of Ministries (BMin). A one year placement is a valuable option for BTheol students planning to pursue a mission or ministry career following their studies.

The Internship Structure

Internship students are required to complete the core academic courses of their programmes (see relevant sections for these details) as well the following:

- BMin must complete a minimum of 60 credits (up to a maximum of 90 credits) of Internship courses, of which a minimum of 15 credits must be taken at level 5, 30 at level 6, and 15 at level 7. These courses are a series of integrative modules that introduce students to the art of drawing together the practice of mission and ministry with academic learning.
- DipCS and BTheol students may complete up to a maximum of 30 credits of Internship courses.

Provision is made for students who have prior experience in mission or ministry, or who have completed ministry modules in other Christian training institutions, to enter internship at level 6.

Selection of Internship courses is to be completed in consultation and with the approval of the Internship Coordinator.

Internship Course Requirements

Each 12-teaching-week semester of an Internship course consists of a minimum of eight hours per week of practical ministry involvement. In addition students will engage in an average of 4.5-5 hours per week of assignment work, reflective practice, integrative tutorials and individual mentoring meetings.

Internship courses are designed to build on one another and where possible should be enrolled in sequentially. Students may complete internships in the context of a church, a cross-cultural ministry or a community ministry. All placements, mentors and supervisors must be approved by the Internship Coordinator prior to the commencement of the student's first Internship course. Students may not enrol in an internship course after the first day of a given semester.

Pre-requisites

In order to maintain the integrity and objectives of the internship programme students enrolled part-time are required to observe the following:

- Level 5: Each internship course must have one non-internship course successfully completed or enrolled in concurrently.
- Level 6: 15 internship credits at level 5 + 75 credits of non-internship courses successfully completed.
- Level 7: 30 internship credits at level 6 + 150 credits of non-internship courses successfully completed, 75 of which must be at level 6 or above.

Part-Time Internship Students

Those with high commitments alongside their study may consider the following options:

- Organising a regular ministry commitment that involves weekends and/or evenings such as involvement in youth, children, small groups, groups associated with mission organisations (e.g., support groups; work with migrants) or in the marketplace (e.g., mentoring; chaplaincy – which may be completed outside of regular work hours) OR

- Splitting the eight hours per week commitment. This option would require the student to commit a portion of their hours to a regular weekly placement (e.g. 4-5 hours, allowing for ongoing supervision) but would also enable them to set aside a block of time during the semester to fulfill their ministry commitments, e.g. through involvement in a camp, school holiday programme or mission trip. Consideration will be given to any proposal offered provided it has the support of the organisation with which the student is placed and offers sufficient opportunity for ministry development.

For further details of course requirements refer to the DipCS, BMin, and BTheol sections of this handbook.
